By Henry S. Nash, Professor of New Testament Interpretation in the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge.

The Atoning Life

Cloth, 148 pages, 16mo, $1.00 net; by mail, $1.08

The author endeavors to render the Atonement a living doctrine, quick with appeal and inspiration, springing from life and giving form and clarity to experience.

By Professor Josiah Royce, of Harvard University, author of "The Conception of God," etc.

The Philosophy of Loyalty

Cloth, xiii + 409 pages, $1.50 net; by mail, $1.60

"His work is immediately and concretely inspiring to the man not at all concerned with the subtleties of metaphysical disquisition, but very much concerned in the affairs of every-day existence. It helps him to appreciate the poverty of egotistical ideals — such as the ideal of power — and it plainly propounds means whereby life may be made really worth living." — The Outlook.

By the Rev. George Holley Gilbert, D.D.
Interpretation of the Bible

Cloth, 12mo, $1.25 net; by mail, $1.35

By the author of "The Student's Life of Jesus," "The Student's Life of Paul," etc. It is a comprehensive, fairly complete, though brief, history of methods of interpretation from the earliest times to the present. Curiously enough, there has been no such record in English, even in outline, though the far-reaching influence of differences in interpretation is well recognized.

By the Rev. John Watson, Professor of Moral Philosophy in Queen's University, Kingston, Canada.

The Philosophical Basis of Religion
